Cookie policy

EURO-FINANCE AD uses cookies. These are small text files that EURO-FINANCE AD may add to improve the quality of services offered and to make the website and trading platforms as easy to use as possible.

By using the website and the services offered by EURO-FINANCE AD through it, you accept this Cookie Policy and consent to EURO-FINANCE AD or its partners placing cookies on your computer or mobile device.

Cookies improve interaction with the website and the use of the trading platform. They do not give access to the website user's computer, but they contain information about the user's IP address, which can be used to identify the website user. When visiting our web applications, the information necessary for the effective use of the application (language, session, configurator step, selected data in the configurator, etc.) can be stored. In this way, the user's personal data can be accessed if the personal information stored by us is linked to the information stored and obtained by cookies.

EURO-FINANCE AD uses Google Analytics to analyse the use of its website, and Google Analytics generates statistical and other information about the website using cookies on users' computers. Cookies may be placed on your computer by EURO-FINANCE AD or its partner Google Inc. By using our website, you consent to the processing of the data collected by Google Analytics and the methods of processing it for the purposes set out above. The information collected in connection with our website is used to create reports about its use. This information is stored by Google Inc. The "Google Inc. Privacy Policy" is available at: <http://www.google.com/policies/privacy>

There are several main types of cookies used by EURO-FINANCE AD:

- Short-term (session) cookies are stored in the temporary memory of your computer and exist only while you visit the website. They delete themselves when you leave the website and close the browser. They allow the effective use of the website by tracking the display of its constituent pages without requiring the input of information already received and/or transmitted by the user's browser within the same session. The technical or session cookies used by www.eurofinance.bg make it unnecessary for visitors to enter the same information several times during a visit to the website, such as username and password, and allow users to analyse the use of the services and content provided in order to optimize browsing and the services offered.

- Persistent cookies: They are backed up on the computer's hard drive and are available when the browser or computer is restarted, usually storing and re-entering access information (login information) so that the user does not have to remember their login details. These cookies remain on the user's computer until they expire or are deleted. Many are built with an automatic deletion date, in most cases 24 months from the day they were created.

- Third-party marketing/marketing cookies: Third-party cookies are used by partner companies of EURO-FINANCE AD and allow the user to see, for example, advertising banners related to the pages viewed on our site or other information for the purpose of analytically collecting data about site usage.

EURO-FINANCE AD uses cookies for the following purposes:

- Collecting data about user and customer browsing activity on the website.
- Ensuring the security of website users and customers.
- Storing website access information.

- Temporarily storing data entered into the calculators, tools, illustrations and demonstrations offered by the company on the website.
- Storing information about the marketing and product preferences of users, which allows to improve the marketing strategy.
- Storing information about the users' use of the website.
- Valuating the effectiveness of the website as a channel for advertising and promotions (the data collected is anonymous and is not shared with third parties).

EURO-FINANCE AD does not use cookies to track how users and customers use the internet after they leave the website and does not store information that can be read or tracked by third parties. EURO-FINANCE AD does not exchange, sell or rent cookie information without the express consent of users.
